EASA Part 145 Repair Station Certification. EASA Part 145, similar to FAR Part 145, applies to the aircraft maintenance sector. It is the standards for the certification and operation of an aircraft maintenance organization, such as a repair station, and its employees. The European Aviation Safety Agency (EASA) regulates and enforces the standards for civil aviation safety in Europe.

Also, pilots should keep in mind that transferring a UK licence to a EASA member state does not mean losing the British licence. The CAA website states in fact that the UK authorities are developing a simplified application and validation procedure for recent holders of UK-issued Part FCLs who have transferred their licence to EASA.
