The greatest social divide in American life, a half-century ago and today. During that time, the U.S. has seen the most dramatic demographic and cultural shifts in its history, what can be called the colorization of America.

Who we be : the colorization of America - Douglas County ...

Who We Be: The Colorization of America is a journey through the nation's relationship with race from 1963 until today. It is a story of both bravery and forgetting, of invisibility and hypervisibility, and of hope and disillusion. By telling the stories behind "multiculturalism," "the culture wars," "post-racialism," and the "new majority," author Jeff Chang offers us a nuanced understanding of our current state of both progress and backslides on racial equity.
